Friday, April 27 8:30 am to 3:30 pm Register early! Space is limited!

Building a Culture of

Celebrating our Diversity, Trusting our Unity

Dr. A. Marco Turk, J.D. Activist/Educator/Trainer CSU Dominguez Hills

Saeed Danosian, MFA Artist/Designer/ Educator/Publisher

osian, MFA esigner/

Theater by

Stop-Gap

Rayleen Hilton, MDR Mediator/Negotiator/ Speaker/Author/Instructor

Paul Livingstone Music Composer/ Musician/Teacher

Join us for a day of peace building. Explore innovative ways to promote peace and nonviolence on all levels; individually, locally, and globally. We bring together visionaries, peace builders and change makers to create paths forward through ideas, music, art, and action.

Student Center • Free parking • Conference packet • Complimentary breakfast & lunch with registration • Campus map on website

Visit us at www.gwc.info/peacebodybrain • Student Activities Office 714-895-8261

Sponsors: Peace Program • Student Activities • Peace, Mind, & Body Club • ASGWC • Golden West College

REGISTRATION DEADLINE IS APRIL 20 BY 3:00PM. SEE BACK FOR DETAILS

Guest Speakers

Dr. A. Marco Turk, J. D. (Speaker) The Human Condition: Non-Adversarial Solutions to Everyday Conflict. Internationally recognized as an ethnic conflict peacebuilder, educator, and trainer, Dr. Turk is Director of Negotiation, Conflict Resolution, and Peacebuilding graduate/undergraduate programs at California State University Dominguez Hills. To learn more visit http://www.cla.csudh.edu/dnp/ negotiation_conflictresolution_peacebuilding/index.asp?wID=15

Dr. Tara Sethia (Speaker) Professor of History and Director of the Ahimsa Center at California State Polytechnic University, Dr. Sethia has led the development of an interdisciplinary degree program in Nonviolence Studies. She also directs Summer Institutes on Education about nonviolence in schools, a professional development initiative for K-12 educators. Currently she is working on a book, Gandhi: His World and Ours (forthcoming from Longman Pearson). To learn more about the Ahimsa Center, visit www.csupomona.edu/ahimsacenter

Saeed Danosian, MFA (Artist/Performer) Art is Peace. Peace is the Art of Living. Internationally renowned artist, designer, educator, and the publisher of OCPC Magazine, Mr. Danosian makes art accessible to a diverse community. His work communicates pride, respect, and teamwork, and teaches peace and spirituality.

Stop-Gap (Award-winning theater) Their play, "You Be The Judge," demonstrates how that which unites us matters far more than that which divides us. This play offers audiences an opportunity to deeply contemplate what it's like to be perceived as different from the norm.

Rayleen Hilton, MDR (Moderator) Round table discussion: How can we work effectively towards peace and nonviolence? Certified mediator, negotiator, speaker, author, and instructor at UC Irvine, Ms. Hilton works with global organizations to resolve workplace and organizational disputes and build understanding. To learn more visit www.SynergismInternational.com.

Paul Livingstone, (Acclaimed world music composer, musician and teacher) Lebanese-born and American-raised, Mr. Livingstone weaves sitar and a plethora of world strings into his own cloth. Join us for a lyrical afternoon treat of Indian hip-hop, raga jazz, world conscious unity rock, and spirited Middle Eastern inspired jams. To learn more visit www.tanpura.com

Registration deadline is Friday, April 20 by 3:00pm

GWC Peace Conference 2007 Registration Form

Name (print above)	Phone	E-mail
Address
I am:GWC Student or Staff (Free)CCCD Faculty or Staff ($5)Visitor ($20)I will attend:Entire DayMorningAfternoon
Please include me for the complimentary: Breakfast Lunch Both Please submit this form & fee (if applicable) to: Golden West College
Please sublint this form & fee (if applicable) to.	Student Activities Office 15744 Golden West Street Huntington Beach, CA 92647	Phone: 714-895-8261 Fax: 714-895-8958
Office Use Only Paid by check or cash Staff:

Golden West College 15744 Golden West Street, Huntington Beach, Ca, 92647 714-892-7711